Anzen India Energy Yield Plus Trust Tripled its AUM to ~₹6,552 crore Since Listing

Monday, March 16, 2026: Anzen India Energy Yield Plus Trust (“Anzen”) (NSE - ANZEN, BSE - 543655) has successfully completed unit fund raising through preferential issue of 5,95,25,000 units at an issue price of ₹117 per unit, aggregating to ₹696.44 crore.

This capital raise marks a significant strategic step for Anzen, with the issuance made to a group of investors, to further its commitment in acquiring high-quality energy infrastructure assets. The proceeds from this issue along with external debt have been utilized to acquire 12 assets in renewable (solar) energy from Edelweiss Infrastructure Yield Plus and its affiliates. The enterprise value of these renewable (solar) assets, corresponding to a 74% stake, stood at ~₹ 2,520 crore.

With the completion of these acquisitions, Anzen’s portfolio has grown to 15 energy assets across transmission and renewable (solar) Assets in Q4FY26, almost tripling its AUM since listing.

These acquisitions are in line with Anzen’s vision of becoming a trusted and valued investment platform by creating long-term value for its unitholders. The participation from a diverse set of investors including existing unitholders, reflect confidence in Anzen’s fundamentals and its future growth trajectory.
